

You're way out of line, but where was the line drawn last time, We laughed last night, but today it's all so wrong and we're all the same so why would you cause me so much pain well end this fight and pass over the blame

[Chorus]

When the ashes clear away, when the clouds move from the sun, don't be afraid don't be afraid, and don't turn away when they dig up what you burried here, when they find your dirty jewels Don't turn away, don't turn away, and don't be afraid

Your cutting me down

Your cutting me down, your beating me senseless to the ground regaining counciousness without a sound

I'm taking you out removing the kill the lies the doubt

I'm taking your clothes, your shoes, your robe, your crown

[Chorus]

Did it reach down from the sky did it push up from the ground did it turn your life around

did it reach down from the sky did it crawl up from the ground

[Chorus]
