

It might seem like a lot of fun to smash the system but it's not for everyone
Now you will listen

Could you see if you were blind and their eyes told you?
And confined inside your mind you draw your own view?

Here comes the master slave Demand respect for treason
You are my reason to despise the world!
Divided by your claws When we are kings you will be another suit against the wall and bang!

What we learn is never free
we walk with evil
But in bliss we tend to be so forgetful

You won't see it crawling back just out of nowhere and finally when they attack they've always been here