

Running, in the distance from me to you.
Underneath the surface, all colors fade to blue.

Getting through another night,
Slipping through another day
Heaven seems so far away.

Breathe Without you,
How can I breathe without you?
Breathe without you,
I'll never breathe without you.

Breathe without you,
How can I breathe without you?
Breathe without you,
I'll never breathe without you.

Swimming, through the images you left behind.
Reflections of the harbour, the shore I try to find.

Getting through another night,
Slipping through another day
Heaven seems so far away.

Maybe questions I don't get,
Maybe answers I regret.
They pass through many things I can't forget.

Breathe Without you,
How can I breathe without you?
Breathe without you,
I'll never breathe without you.

Breathe Without you,
How can I breathe without you?
Breathe without you,
I'll never breathe without you.
