Hear them preach of eternal life if you've lived by all their rules They try so hard to give you shelter from the cold, cold world outside They try so hard to get into you Fear eternal lies

I stand alone Somewhere between what's right or wrong If there's a God in heaven from whom the earth was given I can't believe yet I can't deny what's going on Can't stay alive no place to go no place to hide

Keep on searching for the answers but the more you learn the less you know I cannot scream and I cannot cry So tell me why I feel this way Is it true what they say There's no way out and I know it's true
