Title: Expanding in the light download from: <http://www.lyricsdisc.com>

Between your lashes I plant flowers all through the night and your breathing like tiny gusts of north-wind

translucent brown
etched with strands of night
translucent brown
expanding in the light

together outside a tiny street is sleeping, so unquiet and fear rolls down the steep slopes of my dreams

translucent brown
translucent brown
expanding in the light

morning
my hair like waves all around us and you and I between blanket mountains and sheets of mist

translucent brown
translucent brown

expanding in the light,
touching without hands waking up to me he finds, he understands.
