it's really easy if you try to tell another hundred lies but I'm not going down this time just when I think I'm over it it's getting easy to forget I haven't even faced it yet

I never wanted anyone to be so wrong for you stop falling down

I don't have anyone to blame
I can't make anybody change
I guess there's nothing more to say

I won't believe it if you say that you will change
I won't release you from responsibility
I never wanted to come down on you this way
I never wanted
