(Let Yourself Be Loved)
Hundred candles for the atmosphere
Thousand reflections in your eyes
On each mussel of the spine and on us
The warm wind of this evening
Brings a sweet smell of an orchid
The movement which already connects us
Is a tide
It makes us rise up
So, that it is not possible to rise higher
While you move your hips upon mine

Let yourself be loved, do it like you know how to
Without limits or shame
Do not stop yet, make love like this
Inside one only shiver hundred meters above the earth
Let yourself be loved, let yourself be desired
As long as it lasts
Till the last vertigo

You want me to light you a cigarette
I take a puff then I pass it to you
But your warm hand still wants me
Chess to the king
Because you are so beautiful
That you do not even know
More beautiful than the Gods
While you move your hips on mine

Let yourself be loved, do it like you know how to Use all your words
Do not stop yet, make love like this
Inside one only shiver hundred meters above the earth
Let yourself be loved, let yourself be desired
Go to the limit like this
And tell me once again yes;

I feel that you are here
That you give me
The vibration
That is right now
I feel that you go
Beyond the limit that there is
Chained to me
So I look at you and I confess you
That we are
The right proof
That there is a paradise

Let yourself be loved, do it like you know how to Abandon your fears
Do not stop yet, make love like this
Inside one only shiver hundred meters above the earth
Let yourself be loved, do it like you know how to
Without limits or shame
And let yourself be brought
There, where still for you
Where still for me
There is the last vertigo
