

THE FINAL ROUND
SMILES AND GLANCES

Since the first moment I saw you I knew I'd met my match (you are so smart) Paying mind to every footstep Looking after you in the dark (oh) even though I've never met you it feels like I've known you my whole life like there was an empty part of me existing for so long waiting for you to come and make things right

I swear that there's no one that can come between me and you if they tried then I'd feel sorry for them I don't know what I'm saying did I say that? I'm not capable just sit there and forget everything

I've thought about this each and every night I hope it goes as planned it starts with us exchanging smiles and glances and ends with us walking hand in hand why can't you see? I just can't live without your love you're the girl for me if not me then no one I'll throw my hands in the air exclaiming, "take the pain from me. just don't leave - you'll regret everything."
