

(John Scott/Bob DiPiero)

Go on and go if you've grown tired of me
And I'll just become someone you left behind
I think I know what you really need
And it's not me this time
And I won't even try
To change your mind this time

You can't wait to find that rainbow
But you just can't stand the rain
And so you're falling out of love again
All you want is that shining moment
And when it doesn't last
You go looking for a heart without a past

I was wrong to think I was the one to blame
Oh, my darling you just made me that way
I know you're drawn like a moth to a candle flame
And I can't make you stay
So, my darlin' go
Fly Away

You can't wait to find that rainbow
But you just can't stand the rain
And so you're falling out of love again
All you want is that shining moment
And when it doesn't last
You go looking for a heart without a past

You go looking for a heart without a past
