

So I guess I must have just been dreaming
When I thought I heard myself say no Anyway it looks like no one heard me so here I go

Cause when you're in the company of strangers Or just the strangers you call friends
You know before you start just how it's going to end

So remember when those doors swing open and all the drinks are passed around Anytime the pickins look too easy...hold me down

I can't remember why I like this feeling When it only seems to let me down Soon I find I'm searching for the exit from the ground

If I think the room is turning faster
Then I think the music is too loud
By then I've lived another broken story to let me out

So remember when those doors swing open
and all the drinks are passed around
When half the party moves into the bathroom...hold me down

Or if you're at the tail end of the evening
And Dr. Feelgood comes around
Anytime the pickins look too easy...hold me down

Down if I want that part Down if I've gone too far

Well I guess I must have just been reeling
When I felt myself begin to fall
I realize I'm bounding down the hallway, off the walls

If my bed was standing in the corner
I could just fall into it right now
And know that I'd just be staring at the ceiling going round and round

So remember when those doors swing open
and all the drinks are passed around when half the party moves into the bathroom hold me down... or if you at the tail end of the evening
and Dr. Feelgood comes around anytime the pickins look too easy
hold me down....

Down if I want that part
Down if I've gone to far....
