I'll never feel again
I'll never feel again
Then I won't have to feel this pain I'm in

If it sounds familiar
Because nothing ever goes the way I've planned
If it sounds peculiar
Then you don't have to try and understand

I'll never feel again
I'll never feel again
Then I won't have to feel this pain I'm in

I'm not a great example
Of everything the world expects of us
I know I'm no exception
I've questioned everything I used to trust
A question of necessity or lust

I'll never feel again
I'll never feel again
Then I won't have to feel this pain I'm in

It's as simple as you make it
And as complicated as who you think you are
