

So here stand again on the island of madness and pain
My fate is calling me to walk out of the dark and the rain
If I could go where I can Walk, I can run, I can breath where destiny is clear from the smoke and the smell of debris

I raise my hands up to the voices in the sky
Forever I mass go and find the other side

How can we go from here if we don't stop the war
And How can we lose all the fear if we don't stop the war

Now you stand before me, you ask me where to go
Just go and fo it way, cause really I don't know
My mind is going crazy, my head is spinning round
Been searching for the saviour, he's nowhere to be found

And when I raise my head up to the sky
Then Still the question will be burning my mind

How can we go from here if we don't stop the war
And How can we lose all the fear if we don't stop the war

How long will it take, how long will it take
How long will it take, until the stop the war

I said, how can we go from here if we don't stop the war
And How can we lose all the fear if we don't stop the war

How long?How long?How long?
I said, how long?How long?How long?

Stop the war, stop the war, stop the war
Stop the war, stop the war, stop the war
Oh, yeah, yeah, yeah!
