

I am the water
I am waves crashing onto you
I am the blank wave
I am the madness
The loss, the dark, the hunt, the cage, the race

I am rejection
I am redemption
I am desire for obligation

I am forever
I can be never if that's what you want
I am the desert
I am oasis
The strength, the weakness for argument's sake

I am rejection
I am redemption
I am desire for obligation
I am one step closer for you

Please tell me when you're through
'Cause I may not be through with you
Your loss to sustain but I will remain
And true to form
If this were the last breath I ever took
Would you take the time to look
Or would you know?

'Cause I am the water
I am waves crashing onto you
You could protect me
But you will kill me when you're through
