

Oh she's right in front of you
And a light year away
Her hair could be on fire
And you'd just ask her
How her day went

She's an invisible one
You say, well some of us are
She may be an invisible one
But she didn't get there alone

Oh it might take a little while
To recognize the view
Now that you're looking
Through her eyes
That toxic clown in the corner
Must be you

She's an invisible one
You say, well some of us are
She may be an invisible one
But she didn't get there alone
Somebody helped her disappear

There's a flash at your side
You could swear it's a howling
Careening bloodthirsty
Keening carrion feeding
And carelessly breeding
Hip-checking planets and
Flying off-course
Screaming my name in the dark
Till it's hoarse
She-devil from hell
