

Verse 1 (by Fabolous)

Babygirl, you know my situation
Sometimes I know you get impatient
But, you don't put on shows to get elevations
Take you to court, and go through litterations
And I respect your gangsta, treat you like a princess and put some on your neck to thank you
She's my pinch hitter, when the starting line up ain't playing right, I come off the bench with her
It might sound like I'm gassin' you, but it takes time to get from the back seat to the passenger
We been creepin' and sneekin', just to keep it from leakin, we so deep when we freakin, and we don't sleep on the weekends
Wifeys a little bit of tight, wonderin' why I keep comin' home in the middle of the night
It'll be alright, if we bump heads it'll be a fight, but I said it'll be alright

Chorus (by Fabolous and Lil'Mo)

I only wanna be with you
Wanna be real with you
I need to leave you alone
And I know I'm living wrong
But I can't let you go
You're the one I want in my life
Already got a wife
I need to leave you alone
And I know I'm livin' wrong
But, I can't let you go

Verse 2 (by Fabolous)

You ain't never step out of line, or get out of pocket
So I make sure canaries slid out your locket
To protect you I'll get and cock it, and you know the barrel of my gun is big enough to spit out a rocket
You gon' play dumb if cops do come through
I got to keep my top up if my drop do come through
But, I know the boutiques and shops you run through
So I cop one and cop you one too.
You always get a dilly paid, weekly ring.
Plus, you ain't shy to do them freaky things.
I ain't gotta put a band on your finger.
I'm worried about you tellin' the whole world I'm your man while on Springer
First, you was something I denied
Something I would slide, just to do something in the ride
But, shortly there's something you provide
Cause the entrée ain't as good without something on the side

Chorus (by Fabolous and Lil'Mo)

I only wanna be with you
Wanna be real with you
I need to leave you alone
And I know I'm living wrong
But I can't let you go
You're the one I want in my life
Already got a wife
I need to leave you alone
And I know I'm livin' wrong
But, I can't let you go

Verse 3 (by Fabolous)

Uh Oh!
I might be leavin' the earth soon.
My girl gon' kill me if she smells the scent of your perfume.
It's gon' be a clipped toss if I go back, with the stains of your lip-gloss on my throwback.
She not gon' care if I'm a platinum rapper, if she catch me with an empty Magnum wrapper.
So keep it on the down low, call the car celly.
You seen what happened with Mr. Biggs and R. Kelly.

Bridge (by Lil'Mo)

You know I care for you.
Every time this chickens there for you.
These feelings I only share for you.
Let's face it Lil' Mo cares for you.

Chorus (by Fabolous and Lil'Mo)

I only wanna be with you
Wanna be real with you
I need to leave you alone
And I know I'm living wrong
But I can't let you go
You're the one I want in my life
Already got a wife
I need to leave you alone
And I know I'm livin' wrong
But, I can't let you go

[repeat chorus until end]
