

Don't expect so much at all
If the test does beckon me
If I should fail if I should fall
I will lose no stability

No not at all
Cause it's the best just not to try

Get away got no family but this
And this little piece of heaven
I am not about to risk

What if I fall?
What if I never make it home?
Home

That's a fear
That I can't bring myself to face

So let it go
Don't bring it up
Put more value on
What you want to give up

What if I fall?
Nothing could make me change my mind
My travel scar
And they break more broken hearts

When I was younger
I'd have run away
My dependence made me stay
Now I'm tired and afraid

And the world at large a frightening place
That's a fear I can't bring myself to face
