

i want to live in fire with all the taste i desire it's all good if you let me dive with sharks on the ground

you loose your routine
cause i found my path

what the hell are you trying now i know there is something more what happened to you still staying on my path are you still denying
now i know there is something more
that this is the truth it's all in you

what do you came for what did you expect to find so boundless i feel and boundless all my fears stop running back to old times

you loose your routine...
