

I don't know nothing, I don't know a thing
But if I just keep on listening, together we'll sing

I been walking for about a thousand years
And my feet are tired of crying all those painful tears
And my sight is going blind, and my soul is way down low
But I haven't seen a thing, so that's all that I can know

I said cuz I don't know nothing and I don't know a thing
But if we just keep on listening together we'll sing

I've been drinking to drown away my tears
And I'm sick of all the violence
And I'm sick of all the fears
But I'm moving down the road
True, I'm moving kind of slow
But I haven't heard a thing
So that's all that I can know

I don't know nothing and y'all don't know a thing
But if we just keep on listening then together we'll sing

I don't think that it's going that good today
I can't take my eyes off of the rain
And everybody's running away
I don't think it's going that good today
I can't take my eyes off of the rain
And everybody's running away
I ran away to the top of the world today

I've been crying and losing lots of sleep
Cause the roads are getting longer
Winter snows come kind of deep
But I still will move along
And I still can feel the sun
And I see or hear a thing
And I'll break into a run

I said I don't know nothing, and y'all don't know a thing,
But if we just keep on listening then together we'll sing

I don't think that it's going that good today
I can't take my eyes off of the rain
And everybody's going insane
I don't think it's going that good today
I can't take my eyes off of the rain
And everybody's running away
