

She's dead
And I know that
And I don't cry
Don't tear my hair

She's dead
She's gone now
There's a hole
In the universe

Death, passing away, time, life
Those are only empty words without meaning
Only a wind's cry will remain after us
And leading by a tree's roots
What has been - has got no meaning now
What will be - it's a misery
And one moment in our memory
Is all eternity

It's scary how little
We matter
It's awful how much
We don't care
Unforgivable
How heartless we are
We see death and it
Doesn't change anything
