Title: Skin Deep

download from: <http://www.lyricsdisc.com>

This attraction only to appearance becoming your religion, looks are everything the only thing that means something to you satisfaction only on the surface, your eyes are always focused go on and let it show, that there is no exception to the rule

so fill the empty space with another pretty face

you're skin deep, skin deep
no one will ever be perfect in your eyes
only scratching the surface for your prize

first impressions are over in an instant you make your decision before you speak a word you end you search the page already turned every conquest filled with disappointment, lacking any substance now you're out of words, the lines are blurred you're never gonna learn

no one will ever be perfect in your eyes
only scratching the surface for your prize

no one will ever be perfect in your eyes
only scratching the surface for your prize

look all your life for beauty this fine so rare so hard to find
never mind what's inside

no one will ever be perfect in your eyes
you're skin deep, skin deep
only scratching the surface for your prize
