

Face to face
And all at once
I'm staring at the life I want
And you, you were the most
I'm black and white
You're color blind
So dream of purple roses and the time
When we were the most
Could it be that I never let you go
And could you be the same girl I used to know
Cause I cant remember to forget
There's nothing here but a mountain, a pile of regret
You promised you would help me with the voices in my head
But some thing has gone wrong
Something has gone wrong
An empty space, but full of ache?
The perfect time for you to come and take
A thief in my home
I'm only gold, what should I be
A ransom paid in skipped heart beats to be
Not alone
Could it be that I never let you go
I wish you could be the same girl I used to know
Cause I can't remember to forget
There's nothing here but a mountain, a pile of regret
You promised you would help me with the voices in my head
But something has gone wrong
Something has gone wrong
I'm walking in the footsteps of the wounded and insane
Tryin? to find the darkness that's running through my veins
Something has gone wrong
Something has gone wrong
Cause I cant remember to forget
There's nothing here but a mountain, a pile of regret
You promised you would help me with the voices in my head
Something has gone wrong
Something has gone wrong
