

My Heart is burning up
These truths I can discount
My thoughts come quickly now
My soul is shacking up
Eyes only see so much
My skin can only touch
Does my voice make a sound?
Can you hear me scream?

Inside I'm crying out for something more
I just cannot ignore
Inside I try to find that something more
Find what we're living for

Take all my pride and joy
Rob all materials
I'll remain unfulfilled
Will there be something I missed?
Will I regret my mistakes?
When I see You face to face?
