

(Bonnie Rogers)

Well I'm slippin' on my old party clothes
Wondering if they're still in style
Ain't had 'em on
Since you've been gone
And that's been along long while

And I wonder if these old dancing shoes
Will they still feel right?
Guess I'll never know
Unless I go somewhere out there tonight

Been livin' alone
Since you've been gone
Hoping you might return
And I've yet to let
A stranger in my door
But I'm feeling more willing
Than ever before

Oh I wonder if I'll feel out of place
Should new arms hold me tight
Guess I'll never know
Unless I go somewhere out there tonight
