

[Words and music by Devin Townsend]

Now that the love is gone
What's still holding on?
If all that was said was true...
What's still holding you?
If ever, you need someone there
Who's been there for ever
And ever, will waken the dawn
Awaken the dawn for you...

Please don't hesitate to call
Please don't hesitate at all...
Please don't hesitate to call
Please don't hesitate at all

(So many words, which ones do you say?)

Sing maute dingas!
(Everyone who knows and everyone who noticed...
Anyone who noticed anyone who knows it...)

Soul driven! -- Devil
-- Nature
-- Cadillac
-- Jesus
-- Allah
-- Krishna
-- Buddah
-- God

The birth has occurred and the time has begun, it's the end of this age and the preparations must begin for a new time that takes so much work and will hurt in the beginning, change always does, and know strength is not something you buy or sell through aggression and fear. Only love and acceptance of faith will convince you that you're not alone and exist among friends so have patience...

Don't give in...
Don't give in...
Have patience...

-- It's time
(Is this what you want? Are you happy with what we've become? Is this the way you want to live?)

...you have a decision to make
Bodywash! Home everybody e-a
Everybody knows, it's very good now... home... home...
