

I'll fawn over photographs that you never would get to see swallow your own neglect with your miserable company your daughter forgot her memories your daughter forgot her remember these

I'm over the precedent of a false security no matter how I come back can never be proud of me

it's too long
to stay gone
it's too long

I don't regret what words were said deserved respect you never had watching the world keep falling around you I don't expect your hand in this under duress and influence

I'll fawn photographs
that you never would get to see

it's too long

(around you, around you)
