

I only act and speak as I feel Their world so enigmatic and unreal

We've got some freak potential but that's just great it makes us who we are, molding our mental state it feels so fragile our web of dreams yet you could not break its truth nor tear its seams

Don't look so skeptic when you turn your eyes to me Sometimes a hero ain't what you've seen on TV

The fire, it knows me and I can walk through the blaze without a mark forever it owes me the life I lost in the dark
The higher it takes me the more I'm able to reach outside the walls of our perception and grab a piece for us all some flaws are character, wear your crown! come brother me and all illusions will fall down