

(Marie Wilson, Robert Parde)

Don't lie to my face
Like everyone I know it's so hard to take
Don't dare think of me
Of just another that'll be your worst mistake
Don't try to interest me
With preconceived ideas of what I should be
So I call on you to lay down your fears and

Take me as I am,
Or don't take me at all
I could never change for you
Here I make my stand,
Watch my innocence fall
You take me as I am
Or don't take me at all

Thanks for the honesty
But in the end you're not a friend
Not a friend to me
No I won't go quietly
Cause nothings wrong with being strong
I'm alive and free

If you only took the time to notice
Maybe I could change your point of view

Take me as I am,
Or don't take me at all
I could never change for you
Here I make my stand,
Watch my innocence fall
You take me as I am
Or don't take me at all

If you only took the time to notice
Maybe I could change your point of view

Take me as I am,
Or don't take me at all
I could never change for you
Here I make my stand,
Watch my innocence fall
You take me as I am
Or don't take me at all
