

VERSE 1

Ten little cyclists got to a bicycle path,
one drove off, and then they were nine.

CHORUS

There was one, there were two, there were three,
there were four, there were five, on a bicycle trip.
There were six, there were seven, there were eight,
there were nine, there were ten, on a bicycle trip.

VERSE 2

Nine little cyclist went right past a pottie,
one sat down and they were eight.
Eight little cyclists met a bike thief,
one had no lock, so then they were seven.

VERSE 3

Seven little cyclists make a chauffeur bewildered,
one didn't drive away, and then they were six.
Six little cyclist got to a light controlled crossing,
one drove on yellow, and then they were five.

VERSE 4

Five little cyclists in the hill had to gear,
one wasn't working, and then they were four.
Four little cyclists should the danger sign see,
one couldn't care less, and then they were three.

VERSE 5

Three little cyclists on a dark a dangerous bridge,
one had no lamp, and then they were two.
Two little cyclists wanted to swing their legs,
one got caught in a car, and then they were one.

CHORUS

One handsome little cyclist left,
gone were the nine,
he drove perfectly correct, we like him.

CHORUS

There was one, there were two, there were three,
there were four, there were five, who went right west.
There were six, there were seven, there were eight,
there were nine, but the 10th was the best.
