Don't need no anyone don't need anybody talk to me about handling relationships it seems like everyone it seems like everybody i think i really doubt i'd use their advice and tips but thats the way i was falling and that's the way i was falling and the way although it's just begun i've heard enough already i feel i'm all worn out only just begun this trip this phenomem wich happens naturally something you hear about more than just companionnship i remember when it was breaking my heart even though then i was falling apart even though....
