download from: <http://www.lyricsdisc.com>

he way a little baby wraps the hand around your finger Sunshine on your face, in the first dawn light
Way she waits to let the moment linger
Way the future's always bring surprise

It aint cocaine running through your veins
Beluga caviar on the gravy train
It aint cocaine as you sip champagne
As you toast hightimes on your Gravy Train
So many vampires in the night
All of the riches in this time, I know you're mine
Waiting for the lightning so exciting after the thunder
Twinkle in your eyes, the starlight shines
The diamond in your mind is cut from wonder
I know how your feeling and you're feeling fine

It aint cocaine running through your veins
Beluga caviar on the gravy train
It aint cocaine as you sip champagne
As you toast hightimes on your Gravy Train
So many vampires in the night
All of the riches in this time, I know you're mine

I know you're mine
And we got all the time in the world
Yeah we got all the time in the world
