

Say something, do something
'Cause she's walking out the door again
Be right back, you said that
You'd never leave her but you did
... you're sorry

You'll never know what you've lost

'Cause you'll still be waiting
Waiting for the right time
Waiting for the net time
Waiting for tomorrow when
You'll still be waiting

Said nothing, did nothing
And you've lost you're closest friend again
I guess that you'll take back
All those words you never said
... it's too late

You'll never know what you've lost

'Cause you'll still be waiting
Waiting for the right time
Waiting for the net time
Waiting for tomorrow when
You'll still be waiting
