

You must have caught me unaware
And to think that life was fair
You teach us but we really never know
Do we want to know, want to know why?
We all know why, we know to survive

There's other places that I find to channel energy
All the paper means nothing, means nothing to me
And we all want to know why
We all know why, we know to survive

When you come around
I feel the units dividing
Inside myself
When you come around
I feel the units dividing
Inside myself, for the sound.

You must have lots of time to spare
And to think that I would care
You push it but you've got nothing to show
Do we want to know, want to know why?
We all know why, we know to survive
But you try with your content but it makes me believe
All the paper means nothing, means nothing to me.

When you come around
Inside myself
When you come around
I feel the units dividing
Inside myself, for the sound
