Hasn't it only been a day
Since you begin to pack your things
Has it only been a week
Since you told me you are to leave
And has it only been a month
Since I asked you what was wrong
Has it only been a year
Since I told you first my dear

So little time to say I love you
So little time to say Good-bye
And I hope that you will be faithful
Or at least I hope you'll try
'Cause I don't know how long I can be along
The song goes on and on when you're not home

It's been the longest year
Since you left me here
This month goes on and on
Since you told me you were wrong
And these weeks've been so slow
Since you said that you'd come home
Now I only have a day to wait
To kiss when you step off the plain

No I don't mind if time goes fast or slow
Or take off the clocks of the walls when we get home
