the pain is neverending all the dreams have been deflowered the once lethal weapons are corroding quickly perfectly circular little men are dancing through the past the future is being touched by serpent fingers the streams float on countless choirs cry fadelessly a puzzle without pieces this fight is not against time it is against timelessness withering weeds have defeated the malformed lilies at dawn it all continues anew
