Title: We had to say it again

It's all been said before,
But we had to say it again.
Apparently you don't listen,
That's why the radio sounds the same.

And to want to speak your mind
But no one's ever listening
And you big bluebird of happiness
Most likely won't come in.
Carol Channing said, "The more that things change,
they stay the same. Yeah"

It's all been done before,
But we had to do it again.
Apparently you've been missing,
That's why the variety never came.

And to want to scream
But no one's wants your complaining.
And you rip apart the tubes
But the signal keeps coming in.
Max Webster once said, "The more that things change,
they stay the same. Yeah"

And to want to speak your mind
But no one's ever listening
And you big bluebird of happiness
Most likely won't come in.
Dick Nixon once said, "The more that things change,
they stay the same. Yeah"
