

When I am queen I will insist with perfect scars upon my wrists
That everything you once held dear is taken away from you

When I am queen sweet girlscout's face and not a one will fall from grace
If all their hearts I could replace, but until then I'll have to...

Drown, drown, drown, myself
Drown, drown, drown, myself
Drown, drown, drown, myself
Drown

When I am queen on royal throne made out of parts of broken bones
Of all the devils I have known that suck the angels dry

When I am queen I'll have my way I'll make it drowning dollie day
And all the tears that we have cried will suck back in our eyes

Drown, drown, drown, myself
Drown, drown, drown, myself
Drown, drown, drown, myself
Drown

Drown, drown, drown, myself
Drown, drown, drown, myself
Drown, drown, drown, myself
Drown

Hush, baby
Hush, baby
Hush, baby go to sleep
Hush, baby
Hush, baby
Hush, baby I'll make it be

When I am queen I will not wait my body type will still be great
I will not leave it up to fate because I hate you too

When I am queen they all will see the patron saint of self-injury
The glitter sores will heal themselves I'll play the part of someone else

Drown, drown, drown, myself
Drown, drown, drown, myself
Drown, drown, drown, myself
Drown

Drown, drown, drown, myself
Drown, drown, drown, myself
Drown, drown, drown, myself
Drown
