Title: Years after you

I dont know if I can explain it cause theres really nothing different at all the sun still burns the earth still tuns and the winter still follows the fall I knew that it wouldnt be easy for my heart to find somebody new but I never thought it still would be broken in two these years after you

they tell me time is a natural healer it kinda smoothes the pain away but this hurtin' within hasnt yet given in and it seems like a million days I still remember the taste of your kisses and your eyes that were beautifully blue and I can still hear the sound of your voice when you said we were thru years after you

chorus years after years after you I'm still cryin' tears after years after you I'm still tryin' to make it thru

there've been mornings when I couldnt wake up there've been evenings when I couldnt sleep ooo, my life will be fine for months at a time then I'll break down and cry for a week cause when I told you I'd love you forever I know you didnt think it was true but forever is nothing compared to some nights I've been thru

chorus x2

I'll never get over you
